VOLUME 54, ISSUE #3 MARCH 2017

It will soon be March, in just a few days we will be observing Ash Wednesday and the start of Lent. Lent is a time for us to spend time in prayer, a time to repent our sins, be good stewards of God's gifts, and seek atonement, and perhaps partake in some self-denial. Now one quick comment, we should do these things always in our Christian life, however during Lent even more so as we prayerfully consider the sacrifice that was made for us.

In the Gospel of John in the 8th chapter, verses 1-20, we read of the Pharisees testing Jesus, they bring to him the woman caught in adultery and remind Jesus that the Law demands that she be stoned. We then read Jesus's famous words, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her." And they all left leaving Jesus and the woman alone. Jesus says to her "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more."

We all, I believe, have heard this story, many of us quote it. Today I would like to share with you what Martin Luther said about this story. As we prepare to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the reformation I intend to share some of his wisdom with you throughout the year. Dr. Luther wrote:

"The kingdom of Christ is not one of condemnation. I am not here to condemn you, but to remit the sins of those who, like you, are where death, the devil, evil consciences, accusers, and judges have come to plague them. The slogan of My kingdom is: I forgive you your sin; for in My kingdom no one is without forgiveness of sins. Therefore you, too, must have forgiveness. My kingdom must not be in disorder. All who enter it and dwell in it must be sinners. But as sinners they cannot live without the forgiveness of sins." If I am a sinner, the matter is not ended there; the sins must be forgiven. Thus none but sinners come into this kingdom. But do not let this prompt you to say: "Well, we will remain in sin." No, you must learn to feel and recognize your sin. These Pharisees did not have to become sinners; they were sinners already, and they became even greater sinners when Christ uncovered their sins with the words: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her." A sinner is a person who feels his sin. The Pharisees, these rogues, were no sinners; but they became sinners when Christ said: "Let him who is without sin, etc." Now they became sinners. But they despaired and slunk away. In their arrogance they hid their sin and would not await Christ's second statement: "Neither do I condemn you."

Thus only those sinners belong in the kingdom of Christ who recognize their sin, feel it, and then catch hold of the Word of Christ spoken here: "I do not condemn you." These people constitute the membership of Christ's kingdom. He admits no saint; He blows them all away; He expels from the church all who lay claim to holiness. If sinners enter, they do not remain sinners. He spreads His cloak over their sins and says: "If you have sinned, I remit your sins and cover them." To be sure, sin is there. But the Lord in this kingdom closes His eyes to it, covers it, forgives it, and does not impute it to the sinner. So a living saint and member of Christ stands here, made out of an adulteress who had been infested with sin but whose sin is now forgiven and covered. Even if sinners are knaves and criminals, their sins will be forgiven, as long as they feel them, repent of them, and ask God for forgiveness. If you have tasted the Law and sin, and if you know the ache of sin, then look here, and see how sweet, in comparison, the grace of God is, the grace which is offered to us in the Gospel. This is the absolution which the adulteress received here from the Lord Christ. – Martin Luther-

As we move into Lent, please prayerfully reflect on what I feel is one of the most profound lessons taught above, a thought that comforts me to no end; "Neither do I condemn you; go, and from now on sin no more." That promise from Jesus is the cornerstone of our faith, our sins have been forgiven. And even though we are human and we will sin again, again he forgives us, again and again. We are reminded of this and receive that forgiveness, every time we confess our sins, every time we share in the bread and wine which is His body and blood. So thank you Lord for the sacrifice of your dear son, so that I a poor sinful being may be saved.

A reminder that during Lent this year on Wednesday nights we will be having soup and sandwich dinners, bring a friend, or friends. Also this year we will be having communion on Wednesday nights and our theme for this year is the Ten Commandments.

Sorry for being so long winded and God Bless you all this Lenten Season
Pastor Rick

NEED A PRAYER?

Zion Lutheran Church has two active prayer chains—a daytime and an evening chain. If you would like to have the chain activated to pray for a specific need, please call Marge Douglas at 682-2160. If you reach the answering machine, please leave a message, but then call the church office at 682-6075 and give the request to the church secretary and the chain will be activated. The Prayer Chain members are asked to keep all prayer requests confidential and not discuss them with others, but caller discretion is advised.

Donations for Easter lilies will be set up in the Narthex in March, date to be determined.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SCOOP

News for February. January 29th was Sunday School Project, in which the students each made a necklace or bracelet using different beads to reflect the colors of faith: blue is for faith, red is for love, black is for courage, aqua is for trust, green is for blessings and pink is for peace. Each student was given a card with the story of the Colors of Faith along with a colored bag to put in the necklace. Following the theme of colors the students took turns breaking open a colorful piñata with a lot of sweets.

The Sunday School students drew names amongst themselves for Secret Pals.; the students first made a card for their Secret Pal with a message and a picture they drew and the next time they made a valentine card with a message. Each student was given a cross in which they painted to reflect stained glass, these crosses will be hung in the large room for all to enjoy. Sunday School will be working on a monthly mission; the project will be named after.

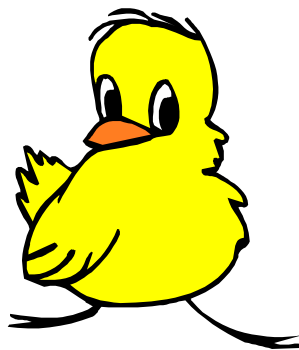

The students continue weekly with The Stories of the Bible lessons, learning the Lord's Prayer and Books of the Bible.

During Lent, we will be collecting donations to buy chicks for Lutheran World Relief.

To a family living in a third world country chicken eggs can provide nutrition as well as income from selling eggs.

There is a donation box in the narthex.

Stewardship Thoughts

As we are progressing into the new year, one might question what is the stewardship of life? It is a call that comes from God to us as a matter of our creation and redemption. Back in the Garden of Eden humanity was created for the stewardship of all creation. When this failed due to The Fall into sin, The Lord provided a promise and fulfillment of that promise in Jesus. Through Jesus's death and resurrection what was wrong between God and us undone and we were restored as people of God. We were called, once again, stewards. This time not only are we stewards of creation, but also of the Gospel. That means we are stewards of life. As we are stewards of this Gospel we make efforts to make sure the Gospel is taught in truth and purity for the salvation of those who hear it.

Stewardship of life goes beyond teaching, preaching and the administration of the Sacraments. It means all of God's people are stewards of life that comes through and in the Gospel. The stewardship of life expresses itself in our vocations for which The Lord formed us. This stewardship of life is carried out by grace through faith by work of the Holy Spirit. It is either embraced or rejected. It also means those who are called to be stewards of life will be called upon to take a stand and not be fence sitters.

Lives can be saved. With The Lord doing the guiding and keeping, our stewardship of life can bring great results as we are led by the Holy Spirit.

YOUTH BREAKFAST ????????
Palm Sunday, April 9th

IF

we can find someone who would take the lead roll of organizing. The menu, vendors, etc. are already figured out from the past years of doing the breakfast.

Someone is needed to order food, get workers (mainly high school and confirmation students) for setting up, serving, clean-up and set out the sign-up sheet.

Donations from the breakfast are for the youth, for earning money for the Youth Gathering [next one is in Minneapolis, July 11-15, 2019] and sometimes for a group retreat to Camp Luther, to name a couple projects. Please speak with Pastor Rick if you have any further questions and/or are interested in taking on this project for Zion's youth.

March 2010

Spring is in the air.

March-the mud season- has arrived as gentle as a lamb. Just step outside to hear cardinals whistling mating tunes from tall trees, sparrows piping hope at dawn, and crows broadcasting the morning gossip. While melting streams sing the music of spring.

I am grateful to walk on the bare-pavement of Whipperfurth Road; Penny, our golden retriever, tags along wading in the wet ditches. I have noticed other neighbors are also happy to get out walking. Winter gets long in northern Wisconsin so we are more than ready to shed layers of thick clothes, smell the good earth, and shout a hearty welcome to spring.

Spring is also the season of Lent- a time to consider our sinful nature. Guess you could call Lent "the mud-season" in our journey of faith. Taking a hard look at our inner selves stirs us to admit that many times our sins have struck raw pavement, drove us into the ditch, and got us stuck in the mud. For sin stains us all. Yes, Lent urges us to acknowledge the grip of sin. To weigh us down. To drain our energy. To shrivel our thirst. To emit the stench of death. To ambush our hope.

But when life gets stuck, God springs into action. For on the cross, the Lamb of God took upon himself our sins and proclaimed once and for all, "It is finished." Finished for me. Finished for you. The redemptive work of Jesus transformed our muddy rags into robes of righteousness.

I pray once again this season of Lent will melt the streams of great grace to increase our faith and empower us to proclaim the glory of God. Hope to see you on the road. Smell the good earth. Shed the wraps of winter. Hear the music. Sing with all of creation. Hope and salvation belong to us in Jesus Christ.

Living in the Spirit... Gives Me Joy

In the Word

The Lord has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy. Psalm 126:3

Of the Word

... the fruit of the Spirit is ... joy ... \(Galatians 5:22\).

Vacations. Vacation homes. Jobs. Better jobs. TVs. Bigger TVs. Parties. More parties. shopping, shopping, shopping. Boats. Cars, etc., etc., etc. The list of things we think will bring us joy is endless. But the time, energy, and money spent on the pursuit of happiness are wasted because the material things we want today are not a source of everlasting joy. They will not bring comfort when troubles or sorrows enter our lives.

True joy comes to us as the Holy Spirit leads us into living with Jesus Christ. Through Him we have the precious gift of eternal life. Knowing this helps us to walk through the dark times into the Light of Christ's love. The things of life are only temporary but God's promises will last forever. Joy is God caring for us.

Let us shout with loud voices, "Joy to the world, the Lord is come!" He has come to give us this message: "For my Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day" \(John 6:40\).

Walking with my Lord

Lord, what comfort I have knowing the pursuit of spiritual things will never be time wasted. Thank You for the joy You have put in my life through Your Spirit and Your Son. In His name. Amen.

Are you a policy holder with Thrivent?
Have you signed up for Thrivent Choice?

It isn't money from "your" account, but from Thrivent's charitable outreach funds. It truly helps the group(s) that you sign-up for. It needs to signed up for by the end of March

Thrivent Choice

With Thrivent Choice®, you can recommend where some of Thrivent Financial's charitable outreach funds go. Since 2010, members have used this program to direct $300 million to churches and nonprofits nationwide.

How Thrivent Choice Works

Eligibility requirements

Members become eligible for Thrivent Choice based on insurance premiums, contract values and Thrivent volunteer leadership. Eligible members are designated Choice Dollars that they can direct to enrolled charities.

Choosing a charitable organization

There are thousands of participating organizations. You can direct Choice Dollars to as many participating organizations as you'd like, but you may not direct less than five Choice Dollars to an organization.

Zion greatly appreciates the choice dollars it currently receives, as does LFOJ. We encourage everyone who hasn't signed up for this outreach to please contact them now, find out more details and maybe join in with the thousands of others who participate.

Dear Zion Congregation,

The Elders have discussed for quite some time about a plan on how to build a better relationship with our members and have decided on a course of action. Each Elder is now responsible for a certain number of members\ families. There are several benefits to both the Elder and the member in breaking the congregation into groups. Each Elder now has a small group of members that they are responsible to for questions or concerns. We feel it is beneficial as a member to know that they now have someone that they can contact and talk to about any aspect involving their Church. The member list will be posted on the bulletin board in the narthex along with it in this newsletter. If you have any questions, please take a look at the list and find your assigned Elder and feel free to talk to them about any questions or concerns you may have.

Thank you for your time and may

God Bless your day.
