Dear Friends, I wrote this devotional six years ago. We have changed, and local and global situations have changed; but I think you can find "contemporary" challenges that fit these thoughts. The good news is that God does not change. We are blessed to be His beloved.

August 16, 2010

I am not sure if it is the refreshing wind today or lack of heat and humidity... but I find my thoughts are all over the map. I even got a lot done as it is so much easier to feel ambitious in a day like today. Hang on to your hat. Here come some of my thoughts flying through the air like the wind:

1. A great day to hang out laundry. I did all the bedding on our bed and can hardly wait to get tucked in between the sweet smelling sheets. Thank you again Herb for the wonderful clothesline.

2. Penny, our dog, has a new trick. She is able to find a swatch of hair from the skunk that was killed along our road about 2 months ago. This little swatch still stinks like the skunk. I have to pry Penny's mouth open to get the hair-ball to fall out. She loves this game.

3. The situation in Pakistan has placed a heavy rock in my heart. Tonight we saw in the news about hospital in Mardan. We used to live in Mardan. The wards are full of children and the poor who are sick from unclean water. We also used to attend English services at the Guides Chapel once a month in Mardan. That is a story in itself. Keep praying for Pakistan. This flood story has reached crisis pitch.

4. I painted a banner today for the Schutte picnic coming up on Sunday at Copper Falls. This reunion has been a long time in coming so we are hoping for good weather. We Schuttes are a large group.

5. Herb butchered 4 roosters today; he also harvested a bunch of corn so we are freezing corn tonight. My husband truly loves the "hobby farm life." I detect his knee is feeling better after the cortisone shot.

Many of you who stick with me through these letters are facing health and life challenges. I do treasure your friendship and we remember each one of you in our morning prayers. Hope each letter marks forward steps in your healing process.

So dear friends, Thank you for your friendship and love. We belong to the Healer-God, the Rescue-God, the Good-natured God, the Creator-God, the Father-God, the Farm-God, the City-God, the Omnipresent-God, the Friendship-God, the Loving-God, the Faithful-God, the Alpha and the Omega. Basically He has all the bases covered... and many we don't even know about. Life is good in Him. Alleluia!
